

KYDEX... the only name you need to know

As we enter another year, I first want to say "Thank you" for your continued support and patronage which helped make 2008 a success. I also want to wish you a very happy New Year — and share some exciting news with you:

Effective immediately, Kleerdex Company, LLC — manufacturer of KYDEX® thermoplastic sheet — has officially changed its name to KYDEX, LLC.

From now on, whenever you need the premier thermoplastic sheet coupled with superior customer service, the only name you need to know is KYDEX!

Since 1987, the KYDEX® sheet brand has enjoyed global name recognition and a reputation for excellence. Exciting opportunities for growth in new markets around the world have compelled our company to make the strategic decision to change our name to KYDEX, LLC — extending our brand recognition to the company to further increase awareness.

With only one name to remember, we believe this change will simplify things for new and existing customers while making the KYDEX brand even stronger. Our headquarters, administrative, manufacturing, and R&D facilities remain in place, as do the KYDEX technical service, customer service, sales representatives, and global distribution partners.

Everyone here at KYDEX is proud of our brand, excited about our new company name, and looking forward to continuing to meet your needs.

I wish you all much prosperity in 2009 and as always, we appreciate your business!

Sincerely,

Jim Medalie
President
KYDEX, LLC
